MISSOURI WARS ON BEEF TRUST

DOUST PROCEEDINGS AGAINST FIVE COMPANIES.

CHARGED WITH CONSPIRACY

Commenced By Attorney General
Major-Armour, Morris, Swift,
Hammond and St. Louis concerns Attacked.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Jefferson, Mo., June 20.—Attorney General Elliot N. Major began today his prosecution against five meat packing companies today by filing writs of habeas corpus in the supreme court. He asks that their property be forfeited or that the companies be fined besides being enjoined from the state. The companies attacked are Armour Packing company, Morris and company, Swift and company, Hammond Packing company, and St. Louis Dressing and Provision company. The Armour, Swift and Morris companies are charged with violating the anti-trust law and conspiracy and the Hammond and St. Louis Dressing and Provision companies, as subsidiary companies of the National Packing company with conspiracy to control the business in Missouri.

The five companies are named in two petitions which ask that the corporations be excluded from all corporate rights, that their licenses be forfeited and that all or such portion of their property as the court may deem proper be confiscated or in lieu thereof a fine be imposed. Armour, Swift and Morris are charged with having entered into a conspiracy in 1909 to control the prices to be paid by dealers in live stock, poultry, butter, eggs, dairy and agricultural products, to control the prices to be paid by retail and wholesale dealers for dressed meats and to control the prices to be paid by all retail and wholesale dealers for butter, eggs, poultry, game, dairy and agricultural products and by-products.

and Provision companies, and numerous other corporations, individuals and partnerships engaged in the same business in Missouri and throughout the United States with a view to lessening, restricting, limiting and destroying competition in the purchase and sale of all packing house products in which the Hammond and St. Louis and other companies were dealing and for fixing the prices and for limiting the amount and quantity of packing house products sold and offered for sale in Missouri, and throughout the United States.

"That the power and purpose to purchase and hold shares of any other corporation, and to exercise the rights and privileges of owners of such stock, was not inserted in the charter of the National Packing company in good faith.

It is charged in the petition that the National Packing company obtained control of the Hammond and St. Louis companies which had previously been engaged in Missouri as legitimate competitors and that the National has ever since voted the stock of the companies, collected the dividends and used the companies in furtherance of the alleged unlawful trust.

The Hammond and St. Louis companies, through the National Packing company, the attorney general charges, have become members of the alleged trust and have been guilty of abuse of privileges not granted to them by Missouri.

ELEANOR ALEXANDER WEDS T. ROOSEVELT IN NEW YORK CITY

Ceremony Which United Young Society Woman and Son of Ex-
President Performed
This Afternoon.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
New York, June 20.—Few weddings in recent years attracted so much general interest throughout the city as the wedding this afternoon at Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church, corner Fifth Avenue and 55th street, by which Miss Eleanor Butler Alexander, only daughter of Mrs. Henry Addison Alexander, of New York, became the bride of Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., the oldest son of ex-President and Mrs. Roosevelt. It was not a grand society event in the ordinary sense and there was no lavish display as could be seen at the Gould and Vanderbilt weddings, but it did not have to depend upon gorgeous decorations and other trills to attract attention. The more province of a former President of the United States at the ceremony was sufficient to make the wedding an event of more than ordinary interest and to attract thousands of curious people to the vicinity of Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. The church was handsomely, but not extravagantly decorated and all appointments were rather simple but dignified. The bride, radiant in her beautiful white satin gown with trimmings of old lace, was assisted by her mother, Mrs. Snowden Alexander, and her sister, Mrs. C. B. Alexander, and a bridesmaid, Miss Jean W. Delano, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Delano, Jr., and Miss Jessie Millington-Druke of Paris. Accompanied ex-President Roosevelt on the hunting trip to Africa acted as his best man and the ushers, most of whom former classmates of Mr. Roosevelt at Harvard, were Francis Roche, John W. Cutler, Hamilton Fish, Jr., E. Morgan Gilbert, Fulton Cutting, Elliot Cutler, Gratton Chapman, George Roosevelt, and Murree Roosevelt. Of the latter the first two are first cousins of the bridegroom. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry M. Sanders, a great uncle of the bride, assisted by Dr. Gordon Russell of Cranford, N. J., and was followed by a reception at the house of Mrs. C. B. Alexander on West Fifty-eighth Street. The bride, who made her social debut only two years ago, is the granddaughter of Mrs. Henry M. Alexander, who was Miss Susan M. Brown, and a niece of Charles H. Alexander of York, of Mrs. John J. McCook, and of the Rev. Maud Alexander of Albany, N. Y. Her mother was Miss Grace Green, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Green of Ohio. Mrs. Alexander obtained a divorce from Mr. Alexander some years ago. The bride is also a granddaughter of and late Theron R. Butler. She is highly educated and a general favorite in society. She and her young husband were friends from childhood. The young husband, Theodore Roosevelt, Jr., is the oldest child of the ex-president by his second wife, who was Miss Edith Carow, and a half brother of Mrs. Nicholas Longworth. He graduated from Groton School in 1905 and entered Harvard University in the fall of that year. Following his father's example he went in for a strenuous life and, although somewhat under weight, obtained a position on the freshman football team. He never became a member of the varsity team, but played on his class teams with remarkable pluck. In his junior year he was duly initiated as a member of the Alpha Delta Phi and his father was present at the hazing which forms part of the initiation ceremonies. Early in 1908, before being graduated, Mr. Roosevelt, Jr., followed his father's example and in the following autumn began his work as an aviator in a career, still at Thompsonville, Conn. He rapidly worked his way up and to be the agent of the Hartford Carpet Corporation in San Francisco. Aerobatics is his favorite recreation.

DEATH FOLLOWS AUTO ACCIDENT

CAR PLUNGED OVER BANK AT BROOKFIELD LAST NIGHT.

REPORTER SHOWS LOYALTY

Uncovers Mystery and Falls Unconscious After Sending News to Paper—Will Die.
[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Waukesha, Wis., June 20.—One Milwaukee man was fatally injured and two others dangerously hurt in an accident at Brookfield when the automobile in which they were riding went over an embankment. Wilbur Grubbs, one of a firm of wholesale fish dealers, died at St. Mary's hospital this morning of his injuries. The others injured are: John Kelly, thigh broken; and William Blane arm broken in three places. The authorities of Milwaukee and Waukesha counties worked all morning to learn the identity of the persons who were injured in the accident. The big touring car, worth nearly $5,000, was found this morning in a ditch, a total wreck, with blood on every part of the machine. The license number had been removed, and there was nothing to show who owned the car. Farmer boys say that the car was wrecked at midnight Monday, and that there were four men occupants. Reporter Succumbs.
Rex Warden, a well known newspaper man, is dying of sunstroke, as a result of his loyalty to the newspapers in Milwaukee, for which he is correspondent. He worked strenuously this morning to solve the mystery of the wrecked automobile near Waukesha. He finally learned the details and, though nearly unconscious, remained on duty until he had finished telephoning to the Milwaukee papers the names of the dead and injured. Before he could hang up the telephone receiver he fell back unconscious.

STAFF PERSONNEL IS DECIDED UPON

New Department Commander of the
G. A. R. Makes Up His List.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Milwaukee, June 20.—Department Commander Frank A. Wade of the G. A. R. has completed the selection of his staff, as follows:
Department Inspector—William J. Smith, Racine; Chief Muster Officer—Lawrence C. Hall, River Falls; Judge Advocate—S. A. Douglas, Monroe; Chief of Staff, George L. Thomas, Milwaukee. The balance of the staff heretofore appointed are as follows:
Assistant Adjutant General, J. A. Watrous, Milwaukee; Assistant Quartermaster General, Fred A. Hild Madison; Department, Patricia Instructor, H. W. Root, Madison. The staff heretofore appointed for this term will consist of: Judge J. S. Anderson, Manitowish; and Ex-Governor W. D. Hoard, Port Arthur. The department commander will include in his next general order a plan for the organization of a Sunshine Club in each post, the object of which will be to have on hand at all times a small voluntary fund with which to purchase flowers to be sent to the comrades who languish on beds of sickness. The experiment tested thoroughly for four or five years in one of the posts has brought such desirable results that the new department Commander feels warranted in making one marked feature of his administration, the introduction of such clubs in all the posts. It is very much to be desired that such clubs be chosen in a bank, restaurant or a club, where the members of the post can make the purchase of the flowers and properly distribute them. It is a painful reflection that but few of the posts of the state are without their invalid members and the number is destined to too rapidly increase during the coming years.

THE RATE BILL HAS BEEN SIGNED

IS NOW A LAW HAVING RECEIVED PRESIDENT TAFT'S APPROVAL.

CONGRESS MAY END SATURDAY

Leaders Expect to Adjourn This Week—Several Measures Are Still in Conference and Night Sessions May Be Necessary.

Washington, June 20.—Congress will adjourn on Saturday next if present plans prevail, and in the meantime the legislative wheels of both houses will work as they never have worked before.

With the railroad and statehood bills out of the way, the president having already signed the former, and the latter only awaits his signature to become a law, the senate has under consideration the postal savings bill, and there is every reason to believe that by tonight or Tuesday at the latest, the house postal bill will be adopted and this measure also hurried along to the president. The conservation bill has passed both houses and there only remains the adjustment of the proposed bond issue for reclamation projects which is in the hands of the ways and means committee and will be disposed of by Wednesday.

Many Measures in Conference. Beside these the naval, legislative, executive and judicial and sundry civil appropriation bills are in conference, the urgent deficiency bill has passed the house and was reported to the senate and the public building bill was brought out in the house. No doubt is expressed by the leaders of their ability to dispose of all these measures by Saturday. If any prospect arises of difficulty, night sessions may be determined upon to hurry matters to the get-away.

Effective in Sixty Days. The new features of the interstate commerce act, with which the country is fully acquainted, go into effect in 60 days, except the provision relating to the suspension of rate increases pending investigation as to their reasonableness and the provision for the appointment of the commission to investigate security regulation. These take effect immediately. It is the president's intention to have the commission get to work as soon as possible and have a report ready when congress reconvenes in the fall.

JEROME HAS NARROW ESCAPE. Former New York District Attorney In Auto Collision.

New York, June 20.—William Travers Jerome, former district attorney of New York, had a narrow escape from death or serious injury when an automobile in which he was driving with three friends and the car of Dr. P. S. Briggs, White Plains, collided on the road between the latter place and Port Chester. Had the Jerome machine been thrown two feet further than it was by the collision it would have dropped over the edge of the road into a brook 20 feet below.

Auburn, Mich., June 20.—Rev. There will be study classes and lectures mornings and evenings, and the afternoon will be kept free for recreation.

SENATE COMMITTEE TO PROBE MATTER

ADOPTS RESOLUTIONS TO MAKE A DEEP INQUIRY INTO LORIMER CASE.

BURROWS TO BE CHAIRMAN

Investigating Committee Will Sit in Chicago, But Work Probably Not Begin Before Fall—Scope of Inquiry to Be Wide.

Washington, June 20.—One of the most comprehensive political investigations ever made by the federal government will be instituted by the senate committee on privileges and elections under the chairmanship of Senator Burrows of Michigan into the conditions surrounding the election of William Lorimer to a seat in the upper house of congress.

The investigation will be conducted under a resolution which was reported out of the committee on privileges and elections, and will be passed by the senate as soon as it comes from the committee on audit and account of the contingent expenses of the senate, to which it was referred in the routine of proceedings. The investigating committee will sit in Chicago, according to present plans, but work is not likely to be begun until fall.

Text of Resolution.

Following is the text of the resolution reported:

"Resolved, That the committee on privileges and elections of the senate, or any subcommittee thereof, be authorized and directed to investigate certain charges against William Lorimer, a senator from the state of Illinois, and to report to the senate whether in the election of said William Lorimer as a senator of the United States from the state of Illinois there was used or employed corrupt methods or practices; that the said committee or subcommittee be authorized to sit during the session of the senate or of congress, to hold its sessions at such place or places as it shall deem most convenient for the purposes of the investigation, to employ a stenographer, to send for persons and papers and to administer oaths."

Scope Is Broadened.

This is much broader than the resolution offered by Mr. Lorimer at the close of his speech in the senate denouncing himself against the charges of bribery in the Illinois legislature.

Browne Opens Defense.

Chicago, June 20.—After an extended conference of lawyers, in which Senator Lorimer himself took an active part, it was learned that Representative Leo O'Neill Browne will open his defense based solely on the theory that Representatives White, Beckmeyer and Link lied on the witness stand.

An army of witnesses from every quarter of the state will be marshaled in Chicago for the purpose of telling the jury that Browne did not distribute the $1,000 "backpacks" declared to have purchased Senator Lorimer's seat in the senate.

Subpoenas for State Aids.

In addition to these witnesses subpoenas have been prepared for Lieut. Gov. John G. Oglesby, State Auditor James S. McCullough and Secretary of State James A. Ross.

It is understood that their testimony will be to show that they heard nothing of a Lorimer corruption fund or irregularities in connection with his election.

Moreover, Senator Lorimer may go on the witness stand to tell of his now famous carriage ride with Representative Link, in which the downstate legislator was prevailed upon to vote for Lorimer. In the event that Lorimer does take the witness stand, however, his examination will be confined to this instance alone for the simple reason that a complete examination would subject the senator to a grilling cross-examination by State's Attorney Wayman.

TRAIN HITS AUTO; KILLS TWO.

Five Others Are Injured in Grade Crossing Accident.

Chicago, June 20.—Two persons were instantly killed and five others, two of them women, were seriously injured when a passenger train on the Illinois Central railroad crashed into an automobile at Wildwood station. The automobile was completely demolished and the occupants were thrown from thirty to fifty feet in every direction.

The dead:

R. C. Prouditt.

Fred Randall.

The injured: Edward White, Melville White, Mrs. Melville White, Chester White, Mrs. R. C. Randolph.

The accident is supposed to have been caused by several empty freight cars at the Wildwood station, which prevented the occupants of the automobile from noticing the approach of the train.

To McFarland in the Third.

London, June 20.—Paddy McFarland of Chicago knocked out Jack Goldswain of London, the English waterweight champion, in the third round at the Blackfriars ring. The man fought for a purse of $3,500.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 1st day of June, 1910.

MAURICE WENDT, Notary Public.

My commission expires Aug. 17, 1913.

A JUST CRITICISM.

A large manufacturer and prominent business man contributes to the "World's Work" an article on Pinchot as a disturber, which is worth reading. After commending him as a forester, he says:

"But he has been doing another thing which I hold to be very detrimental to the public interest, namely, stirring up one set of men against another and influencing the public mind with dislike, distrust, and even hatred of the corporations. It would not take much to make the men who have earned and kept money simply transfer it to other countries—as, for instance, Canada—or put it in the bank or in safe bonds and refuse to develop anything. I already see a tendency of many to Canada, which has been going on some time, and is growing stronger, and I also hear lately that the Canadians do not want any enterprises in our country, but would rather go to South America than come here. Now, Pinchot has been talking—slandering—about the water-power trusts—about one concern trying to control all the water-courses used for power or for irrigation, etc. Pinchot knows that this is not true, for I have told him so.

"Pinchot is a man of great energy and ideas, and he is also a southernist—which is good, if reason is to be found in the same house." Now I hold no brief for Ballinger—never saw him, never knew anything about him, and dislike his face. I did put Pinchot's picture under the eyes of a keen woman—and I may say that I have a good opinion of women's judgment of men—and she said: 'It is the face of a southernist.'

"Personally, I am glad he was put out of office, for he was very indolgent. He had no right to talk to the President as he did; and, if I were President, I should ask Ballinger to move out of the way. Whether he is right or wrong, he is discredited, and the nation—the one party to be considered—has a right to put Ballinger aside, just as it puts an unlucky general aside. For instance, MacDowell in the Civil war was a man of great ability and energy, but somehow or other, did not make things go, did not inspire confidence, and he was removed from active command.

"Of all things, do not let us have anybody in power stirring up trouble. What is needed, honestly, more than most things, is a proper understanding between the people and the different classes of life. The locomotive engineer doesn't understand the point of view of the railroad president, although the railroad president drove a locomotive ten years ago. I believe it to be very necessary now that kind feelings and high sentiments should be encouraged between people who do one kind of thing and people who do another."

PROHIBITION AUTHORITY.

The prohibition party has lived for years without an office—how long would either the democratic or republican party live if neither could elect a constable in the whole United States?

"You shouldn't speak ill of the 'Auntie-Saloon' league because it's dead. It's the dearest thing politically in the United States. I said it wouldn't get a bill through a single legislature after the last election and, although the legislatures of all the states met, it didn't. I defy any anti-saloon men here to say it did. The organization raised $75,000 in New York, $50,000 in Pennsylvania, $75,000 in Illinois and so on, and what did it get with it? In Indiana it came within an ace of losing the local option law it already had; in Illinois it was the same, and what did it do here in Wisconsin?"

"You all know they made 'splendid progress' they assure us. It reminds me of our fight in the '90s for prohibition in the state, when they monkeyed with us for seven years, letting us get a bill through one house at one session and through the other house at the next, for they had annual sessions then, and it wasn't until after seven years that we woke up and asked some one to kick us good and hard."

"We didn't come within 1,000 miles of prohibition and neither did the Anti-Saloon league of county option in this state. There isn't as much show for county option at the next session of the legislature in Wisconsin as there is for the Pabst Brewing company operating its plant in heaven!"

This ought to be good authority, as it comes from E. W. Chaffin of Vanhook, the man who headed the national prohibition ticket in the last campaign. There was a time when the prohibition party was satisfied with local option, which means prohibitory laws in every town, city or state where public sentiment is strong enough to enact them. Wisconsin has a law of this kind today and much of the rural territory is called "dry" on that account. It is more effective than county option because public sentiment is behind it in localities where adopted.

Mr. Chaffin is annoyed because the law and order league, known as the Anti-Saloon league, has accomplished something in the way of reform without consulting the prohibition party. He fails to recognize the fact that his party is a political organization, while the league is a non-political one, and does not aspire to political preferment.

The prohibition party regards all local option laws as a compromise with evil, and now proposes to attack the manufacturer, and through national legislation destroy the traffic at its fountain head. In speaking of the failure of prohibition, he says:

"While we have been manufacturing sentiment against the liquor traffic until we have got nine prohibition states today, yet the whole thing didn't pull as many prohibition votes in the last presidential election as the grand old whiskey state of Wisconsin did. They deserted; that's what they did, saying 'Let's get what we can.' A half loaf is better than no bread; we are doing the best we can, in our weak way, etc."

"Those nine prohibition states are doing, more to perpetuate the liquor traffic in the United States than any other nine. To destroy the liquor traffic in this country is the major proposition; to get it out of your back and into your neighbor's is the minor, and if you fool away all your time on a minor proposition what do you gain for the major?"

Against Local Option.

"I have always been against local option. I tried to get the prohibition members of the Illinois legislature to vote against it and I hope the prohibition party of Wisconsin will send someone to Madison to fight against it or county. If it comes up in the legislature this coming year, it is not a measure to fight the liquor traffic but to perpetuate the republican and democratic parties."

"I hope every good man who runs for the legislature this year for one of the old parties will get licked, every last one of them. The election of good men by the old parties simply prolongs the struggle. And the 'Auntie-Saloon' league—for that is just what it is—and the 'church in action' at the collection box and never at the ballot box, must be defeated with the old organizations."

If Mr. Chaffin is speaking for his party the advocates of county option will not expect much help from the prohibitionists. W. D. Connor has accepted the chairmanship of the republican campaign committee and will open headquarters at the Plankinton House this week. This means a complete reorganization of the republican party along the lines of harmony and loyalty. Mr. Connor says: "We will endeavor to put up to people what republicanism stands for, and let them decide."

The fight between the state authorities in California, and the officials of San Francisco, over the Jeffries-Johnson fight, has reached an exciting stage and the question to be determined is whether Governor Gillette or Mayor McCarthy will win out. The mayor, backed by the most lawless city in the land, is defiant, but the governor has the law-abiding people of the country behind him, and is determined.

William Allen White of Kansas fame, and Judge Lindsey, the popular Janesville court man of Denver, have become infatuated with Clifford Pin-chot, and propose to boom him for the presidency in 1912. Which goes to show that popularity is no evidence of statesmanship.

People who have been waiting to know which way to jump, politically, may as well take their summer vacation. Their idol, Colonel Roosevelt, has gone into retirement for two months, and there will be nothing doing. In the meantime it is perfectly safe to be loyal to Taft and his administration.

"Uncle Joe" Cannon will take the stump in defense of Taft and the national administration. His own political forces are intact in the Danville district.

Collier's Weekly is casting about for other worlds to conquer. Roosevelt at close range is a new proposition and not very promising.

If the weather permits, insolvency will now have a chance to cool off.

Uncle Walt THE POET PHILOSOPHER By WALT MASON. (Copyright, 1909, by George Mathew Adams.)

He came home with a string of fish; his wife soon had them fried; and, as he ate the fragrant dish, he lied, my friends, THE BIGGEST LIE HE'D.

"The fish I brought home pretty fine," his children heard him say; "but ah! I had a rotten time and the biggest and away!" He goes down town, among his friends, and wears a till front, downcast, about his string of trout. "My heart," he says, "will know regret until my dying day; what that fish so large and wet—the one that got away!" All people know the tale he springs is made of mist and smoke, and heated air and dragon wings, and prophetic joke. But he will tell his weary tale till he is bent and gray. "The men's makes my spirit wild—the fish that got away!" And you, perhaps, have some old yarn, as treasure, "stale and vain," that Adam told behind the barn, his sons to entertain. "Though it may seem to you quite fine, it grows on others' ears; O, put it down, my friend, in brine, and let it soak ten years!"

Heart to Heart Talks. By EDWIN A. NYE.

A SPENDTHRIFT WIFE.

Every woman in the land could read "The Spendthrift" with profit. The book, which is now also a popular play, contains the story of a husband and wife, before his time by the extravagance of a spendthrift wife.

The woman in the case is pretty and sweet tempered, but frivolous, willful and selfish.

She was not like "The Vampire," who is pictured as deliberately sucking the lifeblood of her victim. Nevertheless she takes all she can get from her man and then, like Oliver Twist, holds up her plate for more.

She will not understand.

The husband strains every nerve to get money. He warns his wife that they must economize. He tells her he is on the brink of bankruptcy. She sweetly promises to be more careful and proposes that to save money they shall take a trip to Europe, where living is cheaper.

The woman has no conception of the value of money, no comprehension of her husband's sacrifice and strain.

And then the thoughtless creature, after trying to borrow money from a rich old aunt, accepts a loan from a notorious society rake.

She is not laid—only foolish.

By and by the wife comes to her senses. She bravely accepts poverty and through struggle learns her lesson and comes to appreciate her husband.

But the pity of it! She cannot restore his youth and vigor, spent unsatisfactorily because of her vain and silly extravagance.

An exaggerated story?

No. A wife may be foolishly extravagant, whatever her husband's income, whether it is $50,000 a year or $1,000 a year.

She knows he does not want her to think him stingy, and when, taking advantage of this knowledge and of his love for her, she jures him into spending more than his income she is leading him—and herself—into certain ruin.

A close student of modern marriage and divorce says that almost all of domestic unhappiness in this country is caused by money matters.

The foolish desire to possess expensive things simply because others have them, the craze for display, the wish to show socially—these are at the bottom of much of the unrest and dissatisfaction of modern married life.

SEEK CHARLTON ON THREE CONTINENTS

Husband of Woman Found in Lake Como, Thought to Have Committed the Deed.

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE.]
 Como, Italy, June 20.—The Charleston murder mystery is baffling the police of Italy, and Charleston, who is now thought to have committed the crime, is being sought for in all Mediterranean coast ports, and American police are looking for him in all trans-Atlantic steamers. Since the United States government ordered that the lake be thoroughly searched, divers have been at work attempting to find the body of Charlton, believing that he, too, was murdered, along with his wife. This theory, however, has been given up since the search. Information has been received which leads the Italian police to believe that he has left Italy for some foreign port, perhaps United States, thinking that the body of Mrs. Charlton would not be found until after he had made his "get away." The Italian, who was held as a suspect, has proven a tough, able and will probably be released today.

A TOAST TO BREAD

Here is to the backbone of civilization—bread. It satisfies when nothing else can satisfy. When the needer of the gods tastes flat and insipid in the merry quaff, and when the menu with its surfeit of viands and victuals fails to please, good, sweet, nutritious wheat bread comes like a ministering angel to put courage and spirit into the hearts of men. Arrayed in no delicious frostings or tempting garnishments, bread yields the scepter in its regal sway. Companion of prince and peasant, at home in cabin and castle, it is, indeed, builder of men and of nations—our daily bread.

Not $10, But $5

Of course, there are people who will think that it pays to pay their dentist $10 for a $5 job. But there are lots of others who have their eyes open.

My price of $5 for a gold crown is enough for any man to charge.

There are hundreds of dentists in Wisconsin and Michigan who never ask but $5 for a gold crown.

In a few cities, the price is $10 because the dentists there have gotten together and agreed among themselves to absolutely charge that price.

That's the situation in Janesville. My price is $5 for the best gold crown, and it is guaranteed equal in every respect to any crown made.

STORM DOES MUCH DAMAGE TO CROPS NEAR EVANSVILLE

Tobacco Plants Ruined. Hundreds of Windows Smashed by Huge Hail Stones Saturday.
(Special to the Gazette.)

Evansville, Wis., June 20.—Tobacco plants as well as all kinds of crops within a radius of from three and a half to five miles of this city were badly damaged, if not practically destroyed by a terrific hail storm and cyclonic wind which swept through this section of the country at noon Saturday. There was no damage to speak of done in the city, but hail stones as large as four knobs fell throughout the country districts and many farm houses came through the storm with not a single pane of glass left in the windows facing the wind.

So great was the demand for glass doors and windows that the stores were sold out before the farmers who came to town were all supplied. Consequently many of them have been compelled to stuff old clothes in the windows or paste paper over the holes.

Among those whose windows suffered were Frank Bohland, who lost 17 panes of glass, John Reese with 35, Frank Tupper, Orrin Johnson and many others in the immediate vicinity.

Struck by the high wind, the large hall driven with terrible force. Cattle left in the pastures during the storm were badly frightened and narrowly escaped injury in the wild forces as they galloped up and down the fields seeking shelter.

MADE RICH FIND OF RARE LADYSLIPPERS

Judge Pfeiffer Discovered Several Specimens Of Rare Cypripedium Regina Yesterday.

In the lowlands on river Judge Charles L. Pfeiffer yesterday picked some fifteen lady's slippers or more exactly flowers, including beautiful specimens of the large green lady's slipper, Cypripedium Regina, which has hitherto been regarded as a very rare species in this locality. The latter has petals of snowy white with a yellowish or varying from white to a deep rose tint. Of the six species of this orchidaceous family which grow in America, the Judge has found and successfully transplanted five to his own dooryard and needs only the little purple and white "translucens" with its twisted petals to complete the collection. This flower also is reported to have been seen in certain parts of Rock county, notably in a strip of woodland adjoining a farm not far from Evansville. Of the common yellow variety of lady's slipper there were forty specimens in the Pfeiffer yard last season and about 10 this year. The plants of the other species have survived transplanting but have not yet bloomed.

GIVING AND THE GIFTS RECEIVED

DEALT WITH BY REV. MCKINNEY IN SUNDAY MORNING SERMON.

BOUNTY OF THE HARVEST

Is Much Larger and in Fuller Measure Than the Seed Sown—Synoptic—Theological—Relations—Symptoms—God and Man.
The bounty of God, in bestowing in full measure, and heaping over, returns for the things given by man, was discussed by Rev. John McKinney at the morning services at Christ church yesterday. The sermon-text was chosen from the thirty-eighth verse of the sixth chapter of the Gospel of Luke: "Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal, shall it be measured to you again."

"The remarkable law of recompense," said Rev. McKinney, "given in the Sermon on the Mount, runs through the whole of God's Kingdom, not only in the spiritual Kingdom but in the physical world it is true and in the spiritual world also. 'We can do nothing against truth,' says the Apostle, 'but for truth.' What is true in one department of God's world is also true in all departments. Yet we are very slow to realize that law. What we sow we reap. Every year the husbandman goes forth and sows the grain, 'Give,' says the earth, and it shall be given unto you in larger and more generous measure and God has said the same to you."

"The fundamental law is that we shall give our whole selves to God. 'Then shall ye have the Lord thy God with all thy heart and with all thy mind and with all thy strength.' He makes it fundamental in His spiritual Kingdom and in all His Kingdom. It is a simple law.
"We stand today in the presence of one of God's great miracles—Summer. At the beginning of the season an untimely frost came, blighting the leaves and all vegetation, and it looked as if the hand of God had been stayed. But God's promise of the Spring have been repeated and again things are green. Here is a wonderful revelation of God. The most wonderful of God's revelations is that which lies hidden in the trees. It tells you of a wonderful hidden power, and only those who can understand it are able to see the revelation of God's nature. If you prove the associations of men to the study of the wonders of God you are worthy to the flesh, and of that shall ye reap. 'It is so with friendship, and just what each man brings to the other is what each man receives. If there is in him like you of nobleness, then you become friends, but if there is something of antagonism between you, then he hates you, because he sees in you his own ugliness. Judas got his price for the betrayal of Christ to the Pharisees. His ideas were of commercialism and because he thought he saw that in the Pharisees he liked them and was willing to betray the Master. Afterward he saw the ugliness and hatefulness of the Pharisees and the beautiful qualities of the man he had betrayed and he went down and hung himself.
"In God we live and move. Now can you understand the sympathetic relation between yourself and God? As you give yourself to Him you learn more and more of this sympathy. It was the faith in the woman, who desired only to touch the hem of the Saviour's garment, that made her as she should be. The woman prayed for the life of her daughter had the same faith. A reciprocal relation of sympathy and love was established and the Saviour granted what she asked. If your religion is formal, you will get just that kind of Christianity. If more sympathetic and deeper, you will come nearer to God. Men will find the Saviour wants them to give themselves to Him as they should give themselves to Him. What is meant by this? It means that you give up your whole life to Him, and to want Him to guide and lead you in the way you should go.

SUDDEN DEATH OF ELDON J. CASSODAY

Prominent Chicago Attorney Born in Janesville, Saturday in Madison

Eldon J. Cassoday of Chicago, died Saturday afternoon at his summer home on Maple bluff near Madison. Mr. Cassoday, with his family, arrived in Madison Saturday and while working on his lawn was suddenly stricken, probably overcome by the heat, and died almost instantly. The deceased was the only son of the late Chief Justice J. B. Cassoday. He was born in Janesville October 26, 1868, and moved with his family to Madison in 1882 where his father became a judge on the supreme court bench. His education was obtained in the public schools at Janesville and Madison and in the University of Wisconsin from which he graduated with the degree of B. A. in 1890 and from the law school of 1892. He was a member of the Phi Kappa Psi fraternity which he always took great interest in. For about two years after graduation, Mr. Cassoday was in the law office of Olin & Butler, being in charge of the same in 1891. He then held an important place in the legal department of the Union Traction company. About 1903 Mr. Cassoday formed a partnership with Mr. Rush C. Butler under the firm name of Cassoday & Butler and had since been actively engaged in the practice of his profession. Mr. Cassoday had gained an enviable position among the Chicago bar, and especially through his work in important interstate commerce cases.
Mr. Cassoday leaves a wife (formerly Miss Sophie Clawson of Monroe, to whom he was married in 1894) and two sons, John B. and Eldon J., also four sisters, Mrs. George H. Wheelock of Peoria, Ill., Mrs. N. C. Clark of Duluth, Minn., Mrs. W. H. Lucas and Mrs. C. A. Johnson of this city. His mother died some years ago. Mr. Cassoday also was a brother-in-law of J. D. Sumner, his wife being a sister of Mrs. Sumner.

The funeral was held this afternoon from the residence of C. A. Jacobson, 112 East Gilmann street, Madison. Dr. B. G. Uppike of the Congregational church, officiated. Interment will be at Forest Hill cemetery, Madison.

She Knew.

"It is the little things in the world that tell," said the girl as she pulled her younger brother out from under the sofa.

FAREWELL WILL BE GIVEN REV. CHRISTY

Pastor and Wife Will Be Guests of Honor at Reception.

On Thursday evening at 8 o'clock a farewell reception will be tendered Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Christy in the parlors of St. Peter's by the Lutheran Church. A cordial invitation is extended to the members of St. Peter's congregation and all friends of the departing pastor and his wife to be present. A splendid program has been arranged and plans made to entertain a large number. Mr. Christy will deliver his farewell sermon next Sunday morning and will leave for his new work at La Crosse, Wednesday, June 22. His successor in the local pulpit has not as yet been obtained.

Many persons suffer With weak stomach and More or less illness because They fail to understand the Simple and healthful plan Of the following breakfast:

Some fruit
Grape-Nuts with cream.
One or two soft cooked eggs
Some nice crisp toast
A cup of well-made Postum.

A man says:
"I couldn't go on that until noon."

One or two days' trial Will teach him some big facts And make him "fit as a lord." There is a deep, underlying And scientific reason. The best argument, however, Is the actual experience With such breakfasts. Read "The Road to Wellville." In pkgs. "There's a Reason"

When a wild eyed anarchist settles in a city and goes to work to own something he begins to subside. When he has gotten a little money ahead and owns something he is on the fading road to conservative citizenship. When he marries and furnishes a home he joins a lodge and votes the Democratic or Republican ticket. When the baby comes and he has a home paid for or partly paid for he is out to boost and do everything he can to make his town a good town. He is going to protect his own interests.

Now how better up and protecting the interests of his town? You know it is the man who carries his real and personal property in a handkerchief, who takes the ball in his boss gives him and votes as the "boss" says. But this other man, and about all of us in Janesville, belong to his class, are they men, who must work for Janesville while working for ourselves. We all profit by it. In increased property values, a general and continuous progression makes more of that medium of exchange, money, which buys the things we want.

When a man tells you that what his town needs is half a dozen funerals, you can lay a wager that if that man's funeral was to be the first the town would probably pick up considerable right away.

If Janesville needs any correcting, if there are any faults to attend to, let us attend to them in the privacy of our home circles. But when it comes to development and progress, getting more capital to come to Janesville, getting more capital to invest here and give this money to Janesville people in wages, then let us all about the advantages of Janesville from the household.

By the way, has your boy or girl sent in an answer to the slogan contest? Think of some good slogan tonight and send it in to the Secretary's office.

MACHINE CO. OFFICE FORCE WON CONTEST

Defeated the Valiant Foreman Six to Four in Game Played at Big Plunge.

The 12th annual picnic of the Janesville Machine Co. was held at Pottawatomie park Saturday. The picnicers left 100 strong in six special cars arriving at the park about 10 o'clock. They were accompanied by the Janesville Imperial Band which furnished excellent music throughout the day. The main event of the day was a baseball game between the office force and the foreman. The foreman, with waving banners and colors headed by the band, started for the ball grounds. The office team "stole a march" on their opponents by going across the grounds and cut in the procession ahead of the band and leading them around the diamond twice. Behind the "Marching Machine" were some of the finest players which the foreman carried aloft or were played onto their backs. But the foreman were unable to do anything at all against the superb pitching of Mr. Milliken. They scored four runs on errors. A sensational catch by Mr. Craig of a difficult fly and the heavy hitting of Miller, Drummond and Schulz were the features of the game. The final score was six to four in favor of the office.
